

Figure 1: Measured soft assignments across views. A frozen TinyImageNet ResNet-18 encoder maps each augmented real image to the ten displayed synthetic prototypes. Bars show softmax probabilities from ℓ_2-normalized encoder similarities at $\tau = 0.2$, normalized over these ten prototypes. The same transform is applied to the real image and prototypes within each view. The shared radial scale is 0–15%.